The Board of the Park County Weed and Pest Control District has approved a cost share program for the fall application of glyphosate (Roundup) herbicide on all crops where fall applications would be appropriate. The intent of the cost share program is to help defray the costs of using fall applied glyphosate to control Canada thistle, quack grass, field bindweed, and other noxious weeds in crops. The program will have a maximum of $10,000 available for Park County producers that have received a crop quarantine release and will be available on a first come-first served basis. Each producer will be allowed $10.00 per acre towards their fall spraying of glyphosate which would include herbicide and application costs. The program will be strictly a reimbursement program and the maximum reimbursement available for each producer will be $2,000.

Producers may apply the herbicide themselves or use a commercial applicator such as Big Horn Co-Op or Simplot. All applications must include a minimum of 2 pounds active ingredient of glyphosate per acre. When applying for reimbursement, the producer must provide Park County Weed and Pest with proof of the crop, acreage treated, and rate used. An invoice from a commercial applicator or documentation of crop and acreages from FSA would be satisfactory documentation.
